

Closing Speech

By

Mr. Thirapong Tangthirasunan

APRACA Chairperson and President of Bank for Agriculture and Agricultural Cooperatives

2 November 2007 Bangkok, Thailand

Chairpersons of CICA, ALIDE, AFRACA and NENARACA
Distinguished delegates
Ladies and Gentlemen

Time flies very rapidly from the very beginning of the convention, not to mention how long we have managed to participate this remarkable event. Chinese proverb says, "There is no party which will not end".

We have received positive feedback from the forum and a lot of dialogues and solutions to reach out to those underprivileged in every corner of the world for their well-being.

The lessons learned with numerous dialogues are so beneficial and adequate enough to harness to fight poverty and supplement the action in your respective countries. This is an appropriate to further broaden opportunity to join hands and cooperate in the future.

BAAC and APRACA have tried to make this event memorable, meaningful and successful. We as the host institution would like to apologize to all delegates for any inconvenience caused during the convention.

For the few days left, for you in Bangkok and upcountry, we understand you would be happy and impressed with beautiful sites and showcases tailored to meet your satisfaction.

Last but not least, we wish you return to your respective countries safe and sound and hope that cooperation we have had while in Bangkok will be a milestone and a linking pin to tie our relationship in the long run.

Thank you and Sawadee Krab